You can take ANZ Super Advantage with you when you change employers

Over your working life, you're likely to have several jobs and different employers. While a new job is generally a good thing, having to set up a new super account may not be.

You don't need to start another super account as we've transferred your account to ANZ Super Advantage – Personal so you can enjoy many of the same benefits.

Generally, you can arrange for your new employer to start paying your super guarantee contributions into your ANZ Super Advantage – Personal account by simply:

1. Completing the attached Fund nomination form
2. Giving the completed and signed form to your new employer.

A job change can be an ideal time to organise your super

While it's top of mind, there are a couple of easy steps you can take to help organise and make the most of your super.

Consolidate your accounts and pay only one set of fees

Consolidating your super accounts into your ANZ Super Advantage account is easy and means you'll only pay one set of fees and have just one set of paperwork to manage. Simply complete the Rollover Form at anz.com/wealth/super and provide 'certified'* proof of identity for each account you're consolidating.

Be sure to check if there are any exit fees charged by your other fund(s) and that you have adequate insurance cover. If you are aged 60 years or over, you may also have access to your super funds. We recommend you speak with your planner for more information.

Provide your tax file number (TFN) and pay less tax on your super

If you don't provide your TFN you may pay additional tax on your super. To provide your TFN, simply call us on 13 38 63 or send us a completed Tax File Number Notification Form available from anz.com/wealth/super

* A certified copy is a photocopy which has been compared with the original and endorsed as a true copy by an individual approved to do so, for example a Justice of the Peace, legal practitioner, Australia Post employee, finance company officer with five or more years of continuous service. The certification must not have taken place more than three months prior to when the identification and verification procedure is being undertaken.
